

Abolishing Slavery and Trafficking is Everyone's Responsibility

According to the International Labor Organization, 20 million men, women and children worldwide are currently trapped in slavery.

As shareholders in the world's largest corporations, members of the Interfaith Center on Corporate Responsibility engage companies to eliminate human trafficking and slavery in supply chains.

But abolishing this dehumanizing practice is everyone's responsibility. Learn how to spot potential victims by asking the right questions.

For more information visit
<http://www.state.gov/j/tip/id/index.htm>

Inspired by Faith, Committed to Action

INTERFAITH CENTER ON CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY

www.ICCR.org